

The Rest That Remains

Hebrews 3–4

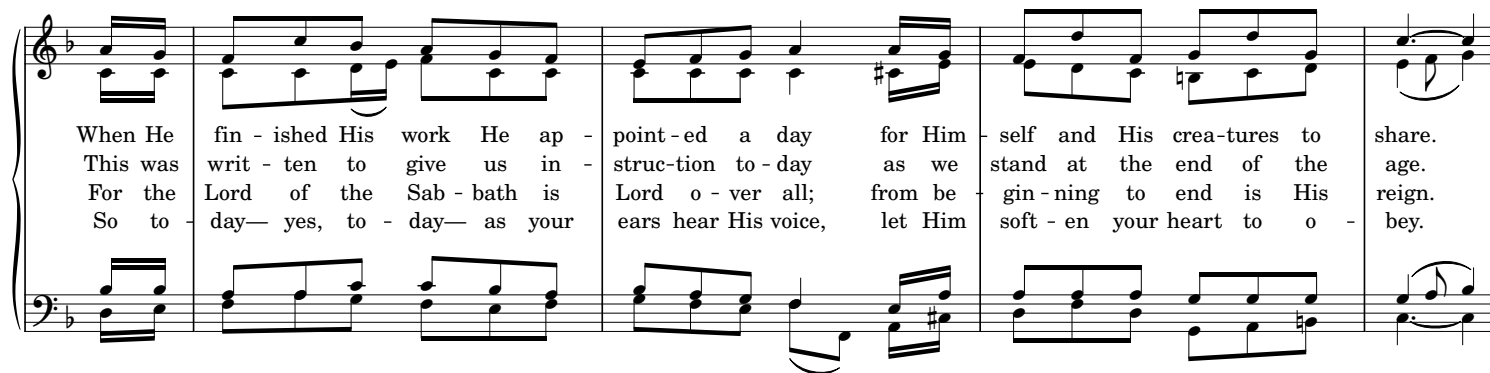

Words and Music by Michael Hess II, 2021

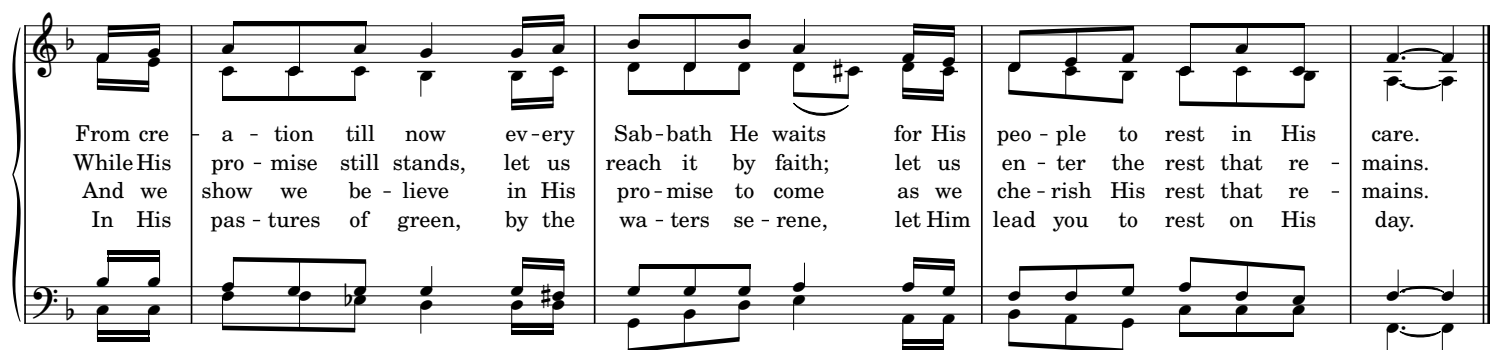

There re - mains still a rest for the peo - ple of God, Sab-bath rest that He gives hu - man - kind.
Out of E - gypt He called His own peo - ple He loved. For - ty years they put God to the test.
As we la - bor to en - ter that pro - mise of rest, we are shar - ing our Ma - ker's re - ward.
Are you wea - ry and worn, hea - vy la - den and torn? Hear the Shep-herd as gen - tly He calls

Since He found - ed the world, brought it forth with His word, He has giv - en His rest for a sign.
Though they saw all His works, they re - belled in their hearts, and they fa - iled to en - ter His rest.
When we cease from our works just as God did from His, we are show - ing our trust in our Lord.
say - ing, "Come un - to Me, let My truth set you free; I will give you My rest, one and all."

When He fin - ished His work He ap - point - ed a day for Him - self and His crea - tures to share.
This was writ - ten to give us in - struc - tion to - day as we stand at the end of the age.
For the Lord of the Sab - bath is Lord o - ver all; from be - gin - ning to end is His reign.
So to day— yes, to - day— as your ears hear His voice, let Him soft - en your heart to o - bey.

From cre - a - tion till now ev - ery Sab-bath He waits for His peo - ple to rest in His care.
While His pro - mise still stands, let us reach it by faith; let us en - ter the rest that re - mains.
And we show we be - lieve in His pro - mise to come as we che - rish His rest that re - mains.
In His pas - tures of green, by the wa - ters se - rene, let Him lead you to rest on His day.
